2019 National Reading Recovery & Early Literacy Conference CHANGING WORLDS – LITERACY LEARNING FOR EACH CHILD

Presented by the Canadian Institute of Reading Recovery

April 4 - 5, 2019

Victoria Inn Winnipeg, Manitoba

The CIRR National Conference offers an outstanding professional development experience for teachers, principals and senior administrators interested in expanding common understandings and effective practices to maximize student learning and prevent failure. This is a premier professional development opportunity for Reading Recovery teachers, Literacy consultants, early literacy teachers and others who are involved in literacy learning for young children.

Keynote Speakers

Sue Duncan

Sue Duncan is a New Zealander who has worked as a classroom teacher, a sole charge principal in a country school and a Reading Recovery tutor before training as a Reading Recovery trainer. In her role as a trainer, she worked in New Zealand as a trainer/coordinator, was part of the pilot implementation of Reading Recovery for two years at the University of London, and helped set up the Canadian Institute of Reading Recovery before joining Georgia State University.

She is trained as the only North American First Chance facilitator and visiting colleague and is also trained in partnerships in comprehensive learning and the comprehensive intervention model. All her work focuses on trying to make sure every child can read and write. Sue has a Ph.D. in literacy and Master's degree in teaching children with severe reading difficulties done while working with Marie Clay.

Mary Anne Doyle

Dr. Mary Anne Doyle is Professor Emerita and Trainer Emerita of the University of Connecticut where she has been the director of Connecticut's Reading Recovery Project, director of the Reading-Language Arts Center, and Head of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction. She is Editor-in-Chief of The Journal of Reading Recovery. She is also the Consulting Editor for the Marie Clay Literacy Trust and chairs the Executive Board of the International Reading Recovery

Trainers Organization. She has served the Reading Recovery Council of North American as Treasurer (2017-2018) and as President (1999-2000).

In addition, there are over 30 workshops to choose from that are led by innovative and inspiring presenters who have extensive expertise in the area of early literacy, reading recovery and education.

The opportunity to network and learn from other educators from all across Canada and the US is sprinkled throughout the two-day conference. This is an opportunity to join together with 300 educators who are as passionate about literacy as you!
